Boarding School Regulations 2026-27

The boarding school regulations are meant to reinforce the purpose of staying at the Boarding School.

The Boarding School is

- a nice and comfortable place to live
- an inspiring place to study
- a place for determined young people aiming for their exams

The Boarding School expects all students to be caring and respect the individual's choice of activities within the Boarding School framework. (cf. code of good boarding school behavior).

The headmaster lays down the regulations on the recommendation of the School Board, the Boarding School Committee, and other relevant members of staff.

The boarding school regulations are part of the school's rules and regulations, which also apply to the boarding school.

If a boarding school student has problems meeting up for classes or handing in written assignments, this can have consequences in the form of increased supervision at the boarding school. This implies for example that the student can be asked to attend the so-called "writing prison" or that the student is not allowed to go out freely in the evenings.

In the Boarding School folder "Welcome to the boarding school" the expectations are mentioned.

1. Alcohol (beer and spirits)
The rules on alcohol applies for boarding school students at the boarding school and outside. In general, alcohol should be taken moderately, and only small amounts are allowed at the students' rooms. It is not allowed to drink or to store beverages with an alcohol percentage over 5.
It is only allowed to drink alcohol Friday and Saturday. It is only allowed to drink alcohol when the staff has been noticed in advance. On special occasions the Boarding School staff, in agreement with the headmaster, may allow alcohol, but only to a very limited extent. In the shared facilities and the outdoor areas, beer, wine, and spirits are only allowed on special occasions and as per agreement with the member of staff in charge. Students can be sanctioned for breaking the boarding school rules on alcohol even if only being in a social context where there is alcohol.

Sanctions: Warning and exclusion

2. Narcotics and the like
It is strictly forbidden to bring, deal or take any narcotics at the Boarding School. This applies both at the boarding school as outside the boarding school, including weekends and holidays. Boarding school students have to accept tests for euphoriants on the headmaster's demand. This will be based on substantiated recommendation from the staff. Students can be sanctioned for breaking the boarding school rules on narcotics even if only being in a social context where narcotics are found.
